Russell William Gibson our 2010 Father of the Year!

Russell William Gibson was born in Pawtucket, Rhode Island to the late Chester and Pearl Gibson. His mother intended to name him Chester Jr. but his father, who was in the Navy, was able to make it home in time and stop that from that from happening. However, when Russell's younger brother was born, his father was at sea and so there is a Chester Jr. Russ is the 6th child and the first boy of 10 children. Because he was a Navy brat, he attended school in Connecticut and New York. His early church experience was with non-denominational churches on naval bases. At the age of 17 he followed his father into the Navy. Upon his discharge, he attended the Citadel, a military college in Charleston, S.C. He worked full time at night while attending school full time. He graduated from the Citadel with a BS in electrical engineering. He was then commissioned as a Naval Reserve Officer, where he worked in the Corp of Engineers and Naval Intelligence. He began his career in the private sector with AT&T Communications and remained with BellSouth after the company split up. Russ worked as an engineering manager at BellSouth for 25 years until his retirement. At BellSouth, he mentored many young engineers who worked for him and worked with minority engineering students working as summer interns. He was a positive role model for these students as they began their careers. Russ was a Boy Scout leader for many years with the troop sponsored by Jamestown United Methodist Church. Although he was not a Scout as a boy, he was selected for membership in the Order of the Arrow, the National Honor Society of Scouting. He and his son Andrew, an Eagle Scout, have had many wonderful adventures in Scouting. As a result of his devotion to Scouting and his family, he was honored as a Torch Bearer representing North Carolina in the 1996 Summer Olympics. Russ is currently a mathematics instructor at the Career Center in Winston Salem, where he works with at-risk students. He is the loving, devoted husband and best friend to Romona, the proud father of Russell Jr., Lydia, and Andrew, and grandfather to Maliyah. He is a man of faith and a believer that you should treat others as you would want to be treated. He follows this mantra in his daily life.
